BALLINGER CASE BEING AIRED AGAIN

Should Not Longer be Retained In Office, Committee Says.

POINT OF NO QUORUM RAISED

Five Members Speak In No Uncertain Terms Their Opinion of Official. Chairman Rules There is No Majority.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 7.—Condemnation of the course of Richard A. Ballinger in the administration of the Department of the Interior, of which he is secretary, and a declaration that he should no longer be retained in that office, are contained in a resolution adopted today by five members of the Congressional Committee which has been investigating the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

These five, four Democrats and one Republican, claim that their vote is binding upon the committee as a whole. This, however, is disputed by the other three members of the committee, who were present today.

But five of the 12 members of the committee voted for the adoption of the resolution, which was offered by Representative E. H. Madison, of Kansas, an insurgent Republican, as a substitute for the one previously presented by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher (Democrat), of Florida. Consequently, the question has arisen as to what action, if any, the full committee, when it is present, will take later. Senator Fletcher's resolution was as follows:

"Resolved, That from the weight of the evidence submitted to the committee we find as follows:

"First, that Mr. Richard A. Ballinger, as Secretary of the Interior, has been unfaithful and inefficient in the discharge of his official duties.

"Second, that he is unfit for the very responsible position he holds.

"Third, that the vast amount of public property under his control and the large public interests are not safe in his hands.

"Resolved, further, that the public good demands his prompt removal from the said office.

"Be it further resolved that a report to the Congress be prepared setting forth the grounds and reasons as shown by the evidence for this finding and recommendations including other matters referred to this committee and that the same be submitted to this committee on Friday next at 10 o'clock A. M."

Mr. Madison's substitute follows:

"Resolved, that the findings of the committee be as follows and a report based thereon be prepared and reported to Congress:

"First, that the charges made by L. R. Glavis against Secretary Ballinger should be sustained; that in the matter of the disposition of the Cunningham coal lands, Mr. Ballinger was not a faithful trustee of the interests of the people and did not perform his duty in such a manner as to properly protect such interests.

"Second, that the charges made by Mr. Pinchot should be sustained, that Mr. Ballinger's course in the administration of the Department of the Interior has been characterized by a lack of fidelity to the public interests, that this has been shown in his treatment of the Cunningham coal claims, the restoration of the water power sites to entry without intention to re-withdraw and in his administration of the reclamation service, the latter resulting in unnecessary humiliation to the director and tending towards the disintegration of the service. He has not shown himself to be that character of friend to the policy of conservation of our natural resources that the man should be who occupies the important post of Secretary of the Interior in our government and he should not longer be retained in that office.

Representatives James and Graham, and other Democratic members maintain that a quorum was present despite the fact that Chairman Nelson, Republican, chairman of the committee, had stated in the meeting that there was no quorum. During the session no member had raised the point of no quorum and Representative James contends that the adoption of the resolution has the effect of expressing the views of a majority.

When the committee met there were eight members present, constituting a quorum, but before the voting on the Madison resolution was reached Senator George Sutherland, Republican, of Utah, and Representative Samuel W. McCall, Republican, Massachusetts, withdrew. Chairman Nelson remained but took no part in the voting.

The Republicans assert that the withdrawal of Messrs. Sutherland and McCall broke the quorum. In this view Representative Madison joins. He said: "Final action has not been taken. No report has been adopted and a majority can, of course, if it sees fit, reverse today's action."

Another leading Republican Senator said: "It is well known in parliamentary law that when a quorum is not present no business can be transacted but to adjourn."

Incidentally he characterized the action today of members of the committee as "the play of party politics of

WHITE MAKES DARING FLIGHT

First Competitor for $10,000 Prize Flies Out to Boston Light and Back Again—Feature Day of Aero Meet.

Boston, Sept. 7.—Over land and sea, Claude Grahame-White, of England, sailed out to Boston light and returned late today in his Bleriot monoplane, the first competitor for the Globe $10,000 prize, the blue ribbon event of the Harvard-Boston Aero Meet at Atlantic. The course was one of 33 miles, consisting of two trips of seven mues each straight down the harbor to the light and return, then a number of turns on the course to make the total mileage. The Englishman established a mark of 40 minutes 1 3-4 seconds, which, if not bettered before the meet closes next Tuesday night will give him the big prize.

Next to the flight to the Boston light interest centered during the afternoon on the lofty climbs of Johnstone and Brookins, of the Wright camp, and White, who went out after altitude marks. Ralph Johnstone was the first to point his skids skyward, his wide skids rapidly several feet into the air.

Glenn H. Curtiss did three circuits of the one ond three-quarter mile course in six minutes and 29 3-5 seconds. White at the same time made his trial in the air contest and in l ing made the first mark in that event, 16 feet, six inches from a given point in his Farman biplane. A little later he brought out his Blerlot monoplane and whipped around the course in a speed event, doing the trick in six minutes, 15 3-4 seconds, which was 14 3-5 seconds slower than the time made by him Monday. Immediately afterwards he started in his Blerlot for Boston light.

At an elevation of approximately 1,000 feet White headed his machine toward the sea and the torpedo boats Stringham, MacDonough and Bailey took up the chase, but soon were outdistanced. White turned the light in about ten minutes and flew back over the field 1,500 feet high, circled the pylon and was off again on the second had time to catch their breath. The lap before the thousands below hardly second round of the course was done with the same marvelous precision and wonderful speed and at 5:17 P. M., White again was back on the field. While the crowds were still cheering him, Walter Brookins was sweeping skyward in graceful spirals for altitude.

The sight spurred White to further endeavors and remaining on earth only long enough to record his formal entry in the altitude contest with his speedy Bleriot, he shot like a falcon after Brookins. White swung to the south, reaching his highest mark several miles south of the field, while Brookins was more to the northward. The Englishman was the first to start downward and he shot out of the deep gray clouds behind the grandstand in a wonderful glide to the ground.

Johnstone had completed his altitude flight just previous to the ascent of Brookins and White, having made at the same time the best mark in duration for the meeting, one hour, 47 minutes, 24 2-5 seconds.

Glenn H. Curtiss put in a new mark in the accuracy event, making a landing within 63 feet and 10 inches of the mark, bettering White's mark by almost 100 feet.

POLITICS IN NASH.

Joint Canvass With Republicans—Salaries Instead of Fees—Big Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Nashville, N. C., Sept. 7.—The Nash Democratic Executive Committee yesterday decided to have a joint canvass with the nominees of the Republican party and also have a speech by some invited speaker in every township in the county.

Perhaps the most far-reaching action of the committee was the decision to have the people vote in November on the proposition of placing all officers of the county on a salary basis. There seemed to be a demand for such a vote. Well informed citizens of the county said yesterday that the vast majority of the voters of the county are in favor of the salary basis of paying officers, and many are glad that an opportunity will be given in November to vote on the proposition.

Governor Kitchin and Congressman E. W. Pou will address the people of Nash county at Nashville Saturday, Sept. 17th. There will be a brass band, and the speaking will be well advertised. A record breaking crowd will be expected at the county seat that day. This is the home of R. A. P. Cooley, who is the Republican-independent candidate against Mr. Pou. Folks are beginning to wonder whether or not he will invite Mr. Pou to divide time with him, and thus take an opportunity to say why he went into the Democratic Congressional convention and moved to make Pou's nomination unanimous, and then afterwards announced himself a candidate. It is not known what he will want to say to the folks, but it would be worth coming miles to hear his explanation. There's going to be big times at Nashville Saturday, the 17th.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 7.—The auxiliary Arethusia, which has been at the yard for several months undergoing a complete overhauling, to be fitted for a tank ship to supply oil for the oil burning vessels of the Atlantic fleet and torpedo boats, will leave the navy yard tomorrow on her maiden voyage as an oil tank ship. She will go to Galveston, Texas, where she is to take on a cargo of oil and return North.

Socialist Executive of Milwaukee Would Not Welcome Roosevelt.

GERMANS HAD DAY WITH HIM

Seidel Explains Reasons for Not Taking Part in Reception—"Big Stick" Published in Honor of the Day—Features.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 7.—The Germans had their day with ex-President Roosevelt today. Beginning the day with a tiff with Milwaukee's socialist mayor, Emil Seidel, who is a German, Col. Roosevelt put in the succeeding hours of his visit here by roaming about the city at will, making his own programme as he went.

He inspected the city's trade schools attended two luncheons and a dinner, took an automobile ride to White Fish Bay and addressed two huge audiences tonight. Late in the evening he went to his car, to start, early in the morning for Freeport, Ill., where he is to speak tomorrow, and for Chicago, which he is to visit later in the day.

The Milwaukee Press Club had the colonel in hand. The club got out the first and last edition of the "Big Stick," a newspaper devoted exclusively to Col. Roosevelt's affairs, in honor of the day.

In a contribution to "The Big Stick" for this occasion, Mayor Seidel stated that "if Roosevelt comes to Milwaukee holding the same ideas which he expressed in an article published by him March 20th, 1909, it is clear that he cannot serve the cause of honesty and decency in American political life."

"It is possible that I have misunderstood the article," stated Mayor Seidel, "but inasmuch as I am a socialist and as he has designated socialism as a thing which is against morals and religion 'abhorrent,' 'revolting'—which would 'replace the family and home life by a glorious state of free lunch counter and a state foundling asylum'—I am sure that he will be pleased that I am not personally connected with his reception in the city."

Charging the colonel "with a cunning and deliberate purpose to create a false impression" he declared that the visitor "could lay no claim to the right of preaching either morality or religion or civic righteousness."

"In the speaking tour of Mr. Roosevelt through the West," said Mr. Seidel, "I fail to see anything of importance beyond political plans and designs. As such of course it is of no special service to the present city administration. The problems that now confront our city are of much the same nature as those the nation faces."

Upon being shown this statement Col. Roosevelt said:

"On this trip I have made no partisan political speeches and of course shall not break through the rule now by discussing either the State party matters or the municipal party matters and at present, of course, the dominant municipal party in Milwaukee is the socialist party. If any one wishes to know my views on what is

TAR HEEL VETERANS PARADE

Featured the Reunion at Norfolk Yesterday—Fifteen Hundred in Line of March—Tribute to Their Native State.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 7.—"The Old North State Forever, Hooray! Hooray!" with shouts of "Dixie" quickly succeeding this tribute to their native State, the Confederate Veterans of North Carolina made things interesting as they passed through the principal streets of Norfolk in their annual reunion parade today.

Slower of step than the Federal and State troops which preceded them in the imposing pageant, they more than off-set with enthusiasm their lack of speed and carried the day as they marched before thousands who thronged the sidewalks from one end of the line of march to the other to cheer the remnant of "Tar Heel" fighters, who were "First at Bethel, foremost at Gettysburg, and last at Appomattox."

Fifteen hundred veterans took part in the parade and while at first it was feared that the heat of the day would be too much for them, few were unable to complete the march. In line were a half dozen or more aged men who lost limbs in battle and had to walk with the aid of crude wood pegs and sticks. A feature was the Raleigh drum and fife corps, who have maintained their organization since the surrender at Appomattox.

The weather was perfect. With the adoption of resolutions appreciative of the hospitable manner in which the veterans were received on Virginia soil the reunion came to a close. A "love feast" is scheduled for tonight at the Cumberland Street Methodist church.

PELLAGRA CASES.

Two Patients With New Disease in One House.

High Point, N. C., Sept. 7.—Two cases of the new disease, pellagra, have been found on Richardson street. Nathan Harrell and his wife are the unfortunate victims. They have been sick several weeks and were waited on by Dr. Grayson, who has decided at last that their illness is pellagra. Another victim of the same disease is said to be in the same house. Mr. Harrell and wife came here from Pilot Mountain last May, not very well, and since then they have grown worse. He, with his wife, returned to his old home today, pathetic sights.

RAILROADS' PART IN CONSERVATION

W. W. Finley, of the Southern, Praises South in St. Paul Address.

FEATURES OF THE CONGRESS

J. J. Hill, Beveridge and Pinchot Among the Speakers.—Stirring Incidents Marked the Day. Conservation Keynote.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 7.—With the dazzling Presidential and ex-Presidential luminaries shedding their powerful rays elsewhere, the light of the National Conservation Congress became visible today.

The two sessions today, addressed by James J. Hill, Senator Beveridge, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and others were well attended and enthusiastic.

Mr. Hill let fall snowers of epigrams at the expense of the National government and was applauded.

Senator Beveridge waxed eloquent to quite a different purpose, but the crowd noisily approved.

Gifford Pinchot suddenly found himself in the limelight and received an almost hysterical ovation. Tears sprang to his eyes, and were still in his voice when he said a few words of thanks.

Another feat of the day, but of which the spectators knew little, if anything, was the closing of the Edward C. Hines incident.

Mr. Hines defied the Illinois delegation which had protested against his being chairman of the credentials committee on the ground that public gossip had connected him too closely with the alleged purchase of Senator Lorimer's seat in the Senate. Mr. Hines told his fellow Chicagoans that he had been appointed chairman, and that since they had chosen to play "penny politics," he would fight them all along the line.

N. B. Baker, president of the Congress, understanding that Mr. Hines did not desire to serve, had appointed Prof. G. E. Condra, of the University of Nebraska. Professor Condra suggested a compromise, which Mr. Hines accepted, namely, that he (Condra) should report on the number of delegates present and then ask that the committee be discharged. This was done and the incident declared closed.

It was the Senator from Indiana who stirred the crowd to the big ovation for Mr. Pinchot. The applause burst at the mere mention of the former national forester's name. Mrs. Elizabeth G. Gran, of New York, who is attending the Congress with Mrs. Lafollette, wife of the Wisconsin Senator, stood up waving handkerchiefs in both hands. She afterwards said that she was so excited that she scarcely realized that there was anyone in the hall but herself. Her example was all that the crowd needed. Everybody arose and it was a full minute before Senator Beveridge could resume. When he had concluded, cries for Pinchot came from every part of the house. He was finally dragged forward, and in a shaky voice said:

"There are but few moments in a man's life like this. It is magnificent to hear the principles of conservation of National resources acclaimed as you have done. I have fought many years

CORRUPT CHARGES AT ALBANY

Speculations of Several Legislators Investigated—Sensation Sprung During Inquiry—Details Brought Out.

New York, Sept. 7.—The speculations of Louis Bedell, one time chairman of the Committee on Railroads of the State Assembly, in stock of the New York Transportation Company following the passage of a bill introduced by him in 1900 giving to that company an unlimited franchise to operate at will upon any and all of the streets of New York City, today engaged the attention of the legislative committee, appointed to look into charges of political corruption at Albany.

The committee began its sessions with an inquiry into the activity of the New York State Street Railway Association in its work of facilitating the passage at Albany of bills friendly to the interests of the association and of impeding the enactment of measures inimical to these interests. Besides the name of Bedell, those of former Senator Louis Goodsell, of Orange, of former Speaker S. Fred Nixon (deceased); of former State Senators Malby, Green and Raines, (the latter dead), recurred frequently in the testimony given by G. Tracy Rogers, of Binghamton, one time president and moving spirit of the New York State Railway Association and for years stationed at Albany as the chief lobbyist of the traction interests.

The operations in Wall Street of Bedell and his financial relations with the now defunct stock brokerage firm of Ellingwood and Cunningham, of which Rogers was a partner, were related at length by a former bookkeeper of the brokerage firm, George Carpenter. Confronted with the ledger account of the firm Carpenter testified that the entries showed that on January 31, 1900, the total debt of Bedell was $7,775.98. An entry in the stock book of the firm showed that on April 9th, 1900, showing Bedell bought 100 shares of New York Transportation stock at 11 7-8 and 100 shares at 11 5-8. This represented an outlay of $2,375. The bill favorable to the transportation company was signed on April 24th, of the same year.

When the blotter of the brokerage firm was submitted in evidence it showed that under date of April 17th Bedell had been credited with $2,375 in payment for his 200 shares of New York Transportation Company stock. The sensation of the day was then sprung. M. Linn Bruce, chief counsel for the committee, handed the witness the check book of Ellingwood & Cunningham and pointing to an entry under date of April 17th, had him read a credit entry showing that on that date H. H. Vreeland, president of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, had given the firm his check for $3,000. Of this amount $2,375 had been placed to the credit of Louis Bedell, $300 to that of former Senatr Goodsell and $325 to that of former Assemblyman T. G. Rogers.

The next entry disclosed that on May 18, 1900, Bedell had purchased another 100 shares of New York Transportation stock at the market price of 12 7-8, or $1,300.

On May 1, 1901 Bedell owed Ellingwood & Cunningham $9,624.65, and had 3,000 shares of New York Transportation stock to his credit. On this same day, however, a credit of $3,500 was entered in Bedell's account, and once more Mr. Bruce hunted up check stubs to ascertain the origin of this payment. The stubs showed that on that day H. Robinson, solicitor of the Metropolitan Street Railway, had given Ellingwood & Cunningham his check for $3,500 drawn on the Morton Trust Company.

The entry in the stock book was designated as follows:

"H. A. Robinson, L. Bedell, special margin $3,500." A line had been run through H. A. Robinson. The hearing was adjourned at this stage until 11 A. M. tomorrow.

Bedell was present during the hearing.

DECISION FAVORS UNITED STATES

Newfoundland Fisheries Dispute Settled by the Hague Court.

ENGLAND WON TWO POINTS

Trouble Arose Many Years Ago From British—American Treaty—Granted Five of Seven Questions to Americans.

The Hague, Sept. 7.—In the gloomy little chamber of the permanent arbitration court five judges, who, since the first of June have considered the Newfoundland fisheries dispute between the United States and Great Britain, this afternoon pronounced the tribunal's historic verdict.

The decision gave neither principal a clear cut award, but in the seven questions at issue supported the United States in five and Great Britain in two.

Summarizing the seven questions submitted to the tribunal for arbitration, points numbers two, three, four, six and seven, were decided in favor of the United States. Great Britain won points numbers one and five.

This court will be a memorable one because it settled finally the disputes arising from the British-American treaty of 1818, which have caused continuous diplomatic controversies.

Chandler P. Anderson, the agent of the United States, Samuel J. Elder, of American counsel and Otis Cartwright, secretary of the American Atlantic Fisheries Commission, and other Americans here are satisfied with the result, giving the United States a victory on five out of the seven questions submitted to the court.

On one of the two questions decided in favor of Great Britain number one, the United States has raised certain questions of equity which will be submitted to a special committee for determination.

Englishmen are pleased with the award because under it the three mile limit is based on headlands instead of for the sinuosities of the coast, and because sovereignty is saved by confirming Great Britain's right to make its fisheries regulations without the concurrence of the United States.

The decision reached by the arbitration with one exception were unanimous. The exception was on the coast question, in which Luis Drago, the member from Argentina, filed a dissenting opinion largely supporting the contentions of the United States.

The award provides that existing disputed fishing regulations shall be submitted to a commission composed of one expert from each country and Dr. Paulus Hoek, the fisheries adviser of the Netherlands, and recommends the organization of a similar permanent commission to consider future disputes on the question of requiring ships to make entry or report at customs houses or to pay light and harbor dues. The award holds that the requirement of entry or report at customs houses is not unreasonable though it should not be made unless convenient opportunities are afforded the officers of ships to report personally or telegraphically to a customs house or to other officials. But, the decision adds, "they should not be subjected to purely commercial formalities of report, entry or clearance at a customs house nor to light, harbor and other dues not imposed upon Newfoundland fishermen."

The award holds that by the treaty of 1818 permission is given to Americans to enter certain bays and harbors for shelter, for supplies and to take on board wood and water, based upon the grounds of humanity. This should not be conditional upon the payment of dues, and reporting to the customs houses, but ships remaining 48 hours should report to the officials if it is convenient and the opportunity arises.

On question five regarding what point must be taken when measuring the "three marine miles of any of the coasts, bays, creeks or harbors," the award recommends definite lines based upon certain enumerated coast points, and in giving his dissenting opinion, on this point, Dr. Drago holds that the scheme should be a part of the award instead of a recommendation.

On question seven the court decided that fishing vessels are entitled to the commercial previleges accorded to other vessels but cannot exercise them at the same time on the same voyage while acting under the treaty liberties regulating fishing.

TY COBB OUT OF GAME.

Famous Detroit Outfielder Having Trouble With His Right Eye.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 7.—That Tyrus Cobb, outfielder on the Detroit American League team is in danger of losing the use of his right eye, was the announcement made by Manager Hugh Jennings, of the Detroit team today. Cobb did not come here with the Detroit team for the four game series which opened today, but remained in Detroit to consult a special 1st.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7.—According to Ty Cobb's physician, the present inflammation is but a trifling matter, but the player has been ordered to take a rest. A few days are expected to remove the trouble with proper rest and care. But an examination of Cobb's eyes disclosed that the famous batsman uses but one eye in batting. His left eye is normal, but the right is near-sighted and is partly closed when he stands at the plate.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break-downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c. at Robert R. Bellamy's.

FAYETTEVILLE TAKES SECOND

Three to Two in Favor of Highlanders in Second of Championship Series With Rocky Mount Yesterday Afternoon.

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 7.—By a score of 3 to 2, in a fast and well played game, the Fayetteville Highlanders annexed the second game of the championship series by bunching hits with a base on balls and Dussault's error.

Rocky Mount started off strongly with Forgue's single, Gillespie's sacrifice, Craegan's pass and Stein's double, good for two runs in the first inning, but thereafter Brandt was invincible and only 27 Railroaders faced him in the remaining eight innings. The Highlanders scored in the first on Mullen's well earned walk, and Dwyer's and Schumaker's single. They forged ahead in the 5th, through Forgue's fumble, Brandt's sacrifice, Mullen's hit, Landgraff's swell base running and Leary's error. The Railroaders could not overcome this lead though they made a strong riffle in the ninth, which Brandt and Mullen subdued.

Leaders in the Inter-Collegiate Lawn Tennis Tournament.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—Princeton's racquet wielders gained the major share of the honors in the opening rounds of the Intercollegiate Championship Lawn Tennis Tournament at the Merion Cricket Club today, Princeton having three of the seven survivors at the close of the day's play to two for Yale, and one each for Pennsylvania and Harvard.

The feature was the defeat of "Alleck" Thayer, of Pennsylvania, by J. Cote, of Yale, a new comer in the competition. R. A. Holden, of Yale, Deane Matthey, of Princeton, and A. Sweetser, of Harvard, who are considered the most likely contenders for the singles championship, won their matches in easy style. The latter two will meet tomorrow in the third round.

WHAT IS DOING IN WHITEVILLE

Politics Again the Theme—Uniform Primary Law—Agricultural Education—Near-Beer Saloon Opened Up.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Sept. 7.—Mr. Homer Lyon, who is one of Hon. O. L. Clark's staunchest friends, says that Mr. Clark has made wonderful gains in Columbus county, and his confident prediction is that Mr. Godwin's vote will be reversed next Wednesday in the primary. Mr. Lyon says he has also received information from other counties in the Sixth District of a most encouraging nature for Mr. Clark, and he considers his nomination as a foregone conclusion. The Congressional contest is warming up, and friends of both Godwin and Clark are at work. But the best of feeling prevails, and it is predicted that we will have a quiet and orderly election.

Hon. James M. Shipman, our county nominee for the Legislature, was in town this week, and stated to the Star's representative that his first action on reaching Raleigh would be to introduce a bill to create a legalized primary for North Carolina, for every public office from United States Senator down to coroner. Mr. Shipman has written to South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi for copies of their primary laws, and will select the best features from each. The people in this county are demanding direct primaries, and are bitterly opposed to any more Wrightsville Beach conventions. It is believed that a direct primary will rescue every congressional district and county in North Carolina from Republican control, for that party will not dare oppose a ticket backed by a white majority.

A number of heretofore Republicans have united with the Democratic party in this county, and at each meeting more names are added to our list. I hear that in one township 16 men who have heretofore voted the Republican ticket, united with the Democrats and say they are with us to stay.

Rev. F. T. Wooten, superintendent of Education in Columbus county, and one of the State's best citizens, stated yesterday to the Star's representative that he intended to go at once to work to have an agricultural college located in each Congressional district in the State, and would like to see such a school in every county. Mr. Wooten says these institutions could be supported by the fertilizer tax, and which the farmers would consent to have raised to 25 cents per ton if given to the agricultural training of their sons. There could be other special taxes added to the fund until enough money was raised to support these schools. Mr. Wooten is enthusiastic over the proposition to give our boys a better education as applies to scientific farming, and says North Carolina is sadly behind her sister States in this important matter.

A near-beer saloon has opened on the public square in Whiteville, and there has been more evidences of drunkenness seen in our town this year than in years. Men who have been leading sober lives have tanked up on this stuff, and several were in so bad a way that a doctor had to be called in. Our people are aroused over the establishment of this near-beer joint in their midst, and there is talk of holding an indigation meeting. The general opinion is that if the State intends to license the sale of such vile and intoxicating stuff as so-called near beer, we had better have well regulated bar rooms at once. But the people do not want either. What they demand is a rigid enforcement of the prohibition law. A leading citizen remarked that the prohibitionists intended to have the beer sold in this place analyzed every week, and if found to contain more than the legal per cent. of alcohol they would prosecute to the extent of the law the dealer. Those near-beer dives are being established all over the county, and the people are in arms against them. The one on the public square of Whiteville sold over 1,100 bottles Monday. Many people from the country went home tanked up. A physician says the stuff is ruinous to a man's health, as it contains cocaine. The State, county and town tax only amounts to $144 a year.

The Whiteville High School opened with 267 pupils, the largest attendance ever known. The music department, under the accomplished Miss Mary Pitts, has also a large enrollment. They are now working to build a dormitory to the school, and also establish a first-class teachers' library. Whiteville is very proud of its school.

The managers of our Congressional primary have been appointed, and the members consist of one Godwin and one Clark man at each voting precinct, and one registrar, who is supposed to be impartial.

LEAGUE PARK SATURDAY.

Army Against Coast Line in This City. Strong Teams to Play.

Arrangements were concluded yesterday for a baseball game at League Park, this city, on Saturday afternoon, between the strong Atlantic Coast Line team that showed up in such splendid form early in the season, and an all-star team from the Fort Caswell League, which has just concluded a most successful season, defeating some of the best amateur teams in the State. The game will likely be called at 4 o'clock and ample car service is promised. The game is expected to be a real good one and as the Army team requires a good guarantee it is hoped the patronage will be large. The A. C. L. team is already down to hard practice and the soldier boys are equally alive to the necessity of putting forth their best possible effort.

The Taft campaign book snubs the Insurgents. Lo hem show their resentment by vo ng the Democratic ticket. No use take an insult.

Tom Watson is born agitator or propagandist of he kind. He might be a live evangeli if he did not rather seem to prefer ive to a dull time.

The Republican ine must be in a sorry plight when the resident has to turn politician and ourse the party with a letter for ublication in the G. O. P. campaign boo.

A North Carolinian ho went as a delegate to the Peace Conference held at Chicago a year ago as married a New York lady who al was a delegate. Being peace advocates, no doubt they know how to arbitrate in order to get along without any family jars

"Can stealing ever be ustified?" inquires a contemporary. would seem impossible, but Republican campaign speechbinders are going around trying their best to do it in the defense of the robber tariff which tak from one class of the people for th benefit of another class.

Those who want to see ome fine cotton, corn, and truck crops should take a spin through East Wmington. The cotton fields of Messrs. W. E. Springer and D. F. Kline will open the eyes of people about the possibilities for the South's great staple in this section.

Prohibitionists in Rowan county, are running an independent tiket. If prohibitionists all over North Grolina do that, the opposite to prohibition will be the result. The Rowan prohibitioninsts could not have taken step that leads more directly in the opposite direction.

The Greensboro Telegram tells us that during August the record shows that 599 whiskey prescriptions were given by Greensboro physicians, calling for about 700 pints of whiskey, wine and gin. The sick sellers in Greensboro probably take their medicine like men early "the morning after."

Col. Roosevelt is now accused of purloining Senator LaFollettes tariff ideas. The Colonel hasn't even left Bryan car-fare, and if LaFollette has any other ideas that are queer he had better keep them under lock and key. The Rough Rider is out for any old thing that may be considered 'different."

Raleigh slipped up in exchanging circus dates with Durham. The circus was scheduled to exhibit in Raleigh on the "big day" of the State fair, so Raleigh cancelled that date with the circus and let Durham have it. If any of the crowd is missing from the State fair on "big day" search for them in Durham.

The census shows that the population of New York is now 4,766,883 and including suburbs is really a city of 6,000,000 inhabitants. New York continues to grow, and we are glad to note the evidence of its growth and prosperity, for eastern North Carolina supplies the tables of that big bunch of people, and about 25,000,000 more folks. Come to eastern North Carolina and help to feed all those people.

If Insurgents scrutinize their convictions closely they will come to the conclusion that they are not Republicans. If Democrats, who think policies in the interest of the people are injurious to "Big Business," examine their principles they will find that they are not Democrats at heart. A new party alignment probably will see nearly all insurgents finally lined up with the Democrats where they belong We will then elect a Democratic President.

NO LACK OF SHOUTERS.

The American people appear to be getting as mercurial as the French. They seem to be for the man of the hour. On Labor Day at St. Paul, Minn., President Taft was the speaker of the day, and dispatches state that he received a "tumultuous greeting" from a vast throng. While the crowd in St. Paul was shouting for Taft, crowding around to shake his hand, the enthusiastic Dakota people at Fargo were surging around Col. Roosevelt, at times the Rough Rider having been surrounded by "a surging, struggling mass of men and women." It makes no difference with the crowd, just so they are up aainst a "big man." They seem content to shake hands, although at the ballot-box they may put in one against the man who excited their enthusiasm only a short while ago.

There was quite a contrast in the Labor Day speeches of Taft and Roosevelt. The President's speech was an appeal to practical common sense and his answer to the recent agitation for a "new nationalists" or "a Federal centralization of power," was reassuring. He declared that "the only safe course to pursue is to hold fast to the limitations of the Constitution and to regard as sacred the power of the States." That is good coming from a Republican, the chief man of a party which has been Federalistic from its birth and has been continuously working towards centralization, limiting the power of the people and magfying the power of the Executive.

What a man says, however, is nothing as compared with his acts. It has been only recently since the Democrats and Insurgents of Congress complained of President Taft for withholding departmental information from Congress. The House of Representatives represents the people of the States, and the executive in denying information to Congress denied it to the people. He instructed the departments at Washington to give out no information to Congress, as if they were responsible to him and not to the Republic as represented in Congress. In a speech in the last session of Congress, the Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, in protesting against the encroachments of the Executive branch of the Government upon the representative power of Congress, declared that "the Congress has fallen from the estate of a co-ordinate branch of the government to the dispicable position of an animated cash register for the executive branch." The Missouri statesman declared further that "it matters not whether the Executive operates with the big stick or with a smile that will not come off, the power of the Congress constantly dwindles, while that of the Executive mounts to imperial, even autocratic, proportions."

It is a well known fact that during the last session of Congress numbers daily rose in their places and anxiously inquired if such and such a bill had been recommended or endorsed by the head of an executive department. Mr. Clark tells us that if such measures were so recommended or endorsed the members of Congress seemed to think it was all right. If not so, it was all wrong. There they were surrendering their power to legislate at the dictation of the department, for getting that the heads of these departments are the President's appointees and in no wise had authority to interfere with legislation. It took a Democratic Congressman to remind them that the mere appointees of the President were only head clerks and hold office at his pleasure, and that some of them could not be elected to House or Senate from many constituencies in the land, while the Congressmen hold their commissions directly from the people and are directly responsible to the people and not responsible to the Chief Executive nor any of his subordinates.

If the President has a proper conception of holding fast to the limitations of the Constitution he ought to practice what he preaches in maintaining the coordinate powers of the executive, the legislative and the judicial. It can be seen how easily legislation can be blocked if departmental information is withheld by the Executive from Congress. Else, how could Congress legislate intelligently with reference to the needs of the government and the necessities of the people? The President's railroad bill prpared by Attorney General Wickersham and a number of railroad representatives, with the approval of the President, was a fair sample of legislative dictation by the Executive. It was not merely recommendatory but purely an administration measure, and party loyalty was measured and determined as to those who supported it or fought it. We find that Republicans who opposed it were denounced as Insurgents, but there were enough of them to join the Democrats in eliminating most of its objectionable features. Nevertheless, President Taft claims credit for the bill which the Insurgents and Democrats doctored in spite of executive dictation.

In his St. Paul speech on Labor Day, the President, speaking to the labor organizations, declared that he knew of no intention on the part of the Government to prosecute labor leaders under the anti-trust law. At the same time he declared that he did not believe labor organizations should be exempted from such prosecution by specific statute. He declared that such a provision of law would smack of class legislation. If the President and his Republican party were to apply that fine distinction to the tariff laws and cease their class legislation in the interest of trusts and tariff beneficiaries there would not be so much insurgency. However, if we could have class legislation affecting the plutocratic interests why not also make exceptions in favor of the laboring classes? The Democratic party stands for equal rights before the law for all classes. Every tub should stand on its own bottom. There should be no class legislation of any description. There should be no exceptions in the laws of the country for violations by those higher up or lower down.

As to President Roosevelt's Labor Day speech, he was the speaker at the laying of a corner stone of a library building for the Fargo College, money for which was subscribed by Andrew Carnegie, the steel magnate, whose industries were large beneficiaries of the tariff under Roosevelt's administration. Yet we find that the Ex-President takes advantage of the occasion to out-Bryan Col. Bryan in swating Wall Street. He declared that he had no quarrel with the captains of industry, but, said he: "I would make their reward subject to the condition that reward shall be for actual service rendered, that it shall be a reward for having served the public and not for having swindled the public, and that it shall bear some proportion to the service rendered." Out of office Roosevelt preaches that. In office he practices the contrary. What service do the tariff beneficiaries render the public that the public should reward them? It is not a reward for any service rendered but a bounty from the public, enabling combinations and trusts to poorly reward the public for favors which the Republican party empties into their coffers as a free gift for partners in controlling the Government.

While Roosevelt and Taft are both inconsistent in preaching one thing and doing the opposite, it must be admitted that the Rough Rider has done more than Taft to interfere with both the legislative and judicial branches of the government. However, Taft has only begun and must be given time if he should equal Roosevelt in doing things as President and preaching to the contrary after he becomes an Ex-President. Both belong to a party which represents Federalistic or centralization ideas and nothing better can be expected of them, though they may do some fine talking when they get out among the people.

The Democratic party will guarantee the safe course that lies in the cardinal doctrine of holding fast to the limitations of the Constitution and regarding as sacred the power of the States—that is, such power as the Republican party has left to them.

Ho! for Charlotte over that Charlotte to Wilmington Highway. Oh, you pathfinders. Get busy.

When you can't think of anything else don't forget to think about the Charlotte to Wilmington highway.

No, sir, indeed. The Butler-Morehead platform did not make the sheep-killing dog an issue in this campaign.

The Durham Sun remarks: "Sam Witherspon who recently defeated Adam Byrd in a Mississippi Congressional primary is an inveterate corncob pipe smoker." No doubt Col. Col. Roosevelt had his money on Sam.

CURRENT COMMENT.

With Democratic, Republican, Independent, Prohibition and Socialist county tickets in the field, no Rowan voter has any ground to complain of lack of variety.—Charlotte Observer.

The Wilmington city tax books show a gain in valuation of property of $268,000 for 1910 over 1909, whereas the latter's gain over 1908 was but $96,000. Did any one remark that the Cape Fear metropolis was not coming along with the rest of the procession.—Charlotte Observer.

The Charlotte Observer says a single farmer in Robeson county has this season shipped 7,000 barrels of potatoes, thirty cars of cantaloupes and eighty cars of watermelons. He has not yet finished shipping his melons and expects to get a bale of cotton per acre from the land which yielded his potatoes. Think of it, ye folks who pretend to believe that there is not money in farming—when it is pursued in an intelligent and systematic manner just as any other business.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Messrs. Godwin and Clark are the only candidates who have entered the primary in the Sixth district to nominate a Democratic Congressional standard-bearer. Both have agreed to abide by the result, which it is hoped they will do, in fact as well as on the surface. May the best man win. With only one candidate in the race, there is no possibility of a Republican representing the Sixth in Congress next time.—Concord Tribune. There never was any possibility of a Republican being elected in the Sixth.—Durham Sun.

No more intelligent and business-like body of men ever gathered in North Carolina than the men who attended the Charlotte-Wilmington highway convention in Laurinburg Friday. The determination and enthusiasm of these men make it certain that the proposed highway from Charlotte to Wilmington will be built. It will not only benefit every town along the proposed road, but it will benefit every section of every county through which it passes. Some forty miles of the road will lie through Robeson, and we are confident that every mile of that road will be put in condition to meet State Geologist Pratt's definition of a good road—a road that is good 365 days in the year. —Lumberton Republican.

Our Republican friends are having a time agreeing on what the plank in their platform on local self-government means. Mose Harshaw says it means liquor, or to be more exact, liquor was the cause of it, the idea being to let each county settle the whiskey question for itself. Others who are inclined to prohibition say it does not mean this at all. But after all, what's the difference? Suppose State-wide prohibition is killed; suppose the matter is to be left where it was some years ago, the cities or counties deciding the matter? In the State-wide vote our recollection is that Wilmington and a few other places voted wet; the others, including Salisbury, which was thought to be safely wet, voted for prohibition, so if a vote could be had by cities what would result? Perhaps half a dozen places would vote for liquor, the remainder voting to stay dry, then indeed would there be a mess.—Greensboro Record.

Wilmington seems to be coming along. The Star of yesterday says: Capt. Thomas D. Meares, clerk of the board of audit and finance who is working on the city tax books, made the gratifying announcement yesterday that the books, when completed, will show an increase in the valuation of property, real, personal, stocks and corporation, over last year of $268,500 in round numbers. The gain in valuation of property in the city of Wilmington is nearly three times as great as the gain in 1909 over the preceding year when the increase was $96,000. The total valuation of city taxables last year was $11,449,984, so with the gain of $268,300, as noted above, taxes this year will be collected on $11,718,284 worth of property, or less than $300,000 under twelve million. Should there be a substantial gain next year the valuation of taxables will push the twelve million mark very closely." That is a good showing. The fact is that Wilmington, despite its factional differences, is a well governed town and just naturally piles up wealth.—Charlotte Chronicle.

A Robeson delegate to the Charlotte-Wilmington highway convention at Laurinburg Friday remarked in private conversation that he would favor a bond issue of $1,000,000 in Robeson for good roads. That is the highest figure we have heard mentioned, but it is not too high. Robeson is a big county and it ought to do things in a big way. There should at least be a bond issue of $500,000. Another delegate to that convention remarked that he was opposed to a bond issue several years ago, but that now he is in favor of it; and still another delegate, expressing himself as heartily in favor of a bond issue, said that it is unquestionably the only way for the county to secure good roads. Each of these men is a man of means and influence whose name is known throughout the county. The sentiment for good roads is spreading in Robeson and it seems to be the general opinion that in order to secure them there must be a change from the present method and that a bond issue is the best way.—Lumberton Robesonian.

BANK EXAMINERS CHANGED.

Transferred to New Fields—Fred A. Hull Comes to North Carolina.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Twenty National bank examiners, about one-fifth of the force employed by the government, were transferred to new fields today by an order from Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the Currency.

Following closely on the sudden call for condition of National banks, which was made on September 2nd, and the announcement of the comptroller that he would in the future personally pass upon the applications of banks which wished to hold reserves, the shake-up among the examiners is taken as another indication of the determination to enforce to the letter the provisions of the National bank act. The call for condition, it is now learned, was specially issued to meet the assertion that the calls had been made at such regular intervals that bankers knew about when to expect them and managed to arrange their affairs accordingly.

The object of the changes, it was said at the Treasury Department is to throw the examiners into fresh fields where personal acquaintance or possibility of influence is lacking.

The examiners will exchange districts. Fred A. Hull, western Virginia and North Carolina, with John A. Armstrong northern Georgia and South Carolina.

OBJECT TO PROPOSED SHED

Owners of Building on Northeast Corner Front and Princess Won't Give Permission for Cover Over Sidewalk.

After securing permission Tuesday night from the Board of Aldermen to erect a cover or awning over the sidewalk on the north side of Princess from the I. Shrier corner to the Junction restaurant for the protection of its patrons while waiting for cars, Mr. A. B. Skelding, general manager of the Tidewater Power Company yesterday morning took up the matter with the Bear brothers, owners of the property on the corner, but they objected to the proposed cover over the sidewalk and as it is necessary to get their permission before the work can be done patrons of the line will have to forego the convenience.

As stated in yesterday's paper Mr. Skelding was before the Aldermen Tuesday night to present the company's reasons for not being able to comply with the request of the board that a waiting room with all conveniences for ladies and children be provided in the Woolvin building, the first floor of which will be occupied by the general offices of the company after October 1st, and he suggested that a cover might be placed over the sidewalk on Princess from the Shrier corner to the Junction restaurant, which would answer every purpose so far as providing a place to wait for cars in unpleasant weather is concerned. The Aldermen took kindly to the suggestion and were only too glad to give the board's consent for the erection of the cover by the company provided the owners of the corner property give their consent. The general public will regret to learn that some arrangements could not be made by which the proposed protection from the sun and rain would have been provided.

SEASON'S HEAT RECORD.

Mercury Crawled Up to 94 Degrees Yesterday—Thunder Squall.

Until a thunder squall broke over the city at 6 o'clock yesterday evening, cooling the atmosphere considerably, the day held the heat record for the season with a maximum of 94 degrees for the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock last night. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the heat wave manifested itself in no uncertain degrees of caloric but 92 was the maximum until yesterday when the top notch was reached. The temperature yesterday morning at 8 o'clock was 78 degrees and it gradually rose until the rain and thunder squall in the afternoon came on when a minimum of 72 was reached. This had increased one degree by 8 o'clock last night but slightly cooler weather is promised for tday. The rainfall yesterday was .8 of an inch.

A special last night from Raleigh says:

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—By noon today the mercury had climbed here to 95 degrees, making this the hottest day of the year. The temperature yesterday was 94 degrees. Raleigh's hottest September record in the Weather Bureau here is 100 degrees, which was reached one day in 1899.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON ENDS

Tarrymoore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, Closed Tuesday—Seashore Still Open for Guests—Afternoon Visitors.

Tuesday marked the end of the most successful season in the history of Tarrymoore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, Mr. W. J. Moore manager, and the prospects for the 1911 season are brighter than any that have gone before. The prospects are so bright, in fact, that Manager Moore has already announced plans for the erection of 50 additional rooms and five or six handsome cottages during the Spring. At the beginning of the past season the capacity of the hotel was increased by the addition of 80 rooms and notwithstanding this the hostelry was crowded during the Summer and at times could not begin to accommodate all who desired to stop there.

The hotel gave most general satisfaction in every respect and the guests went away singing the praises of the hotel and its management. Many persons who were there a few days during the season made reservations for their families for several weeks next season.

The Seashore Hotel will be open on the European plan until the first of October. The dining room closed September 1st, and the guests are served their meals from the excellent cafe just across the suburban car tracks in front of the hotel. There are a number of guests at the hotel and it is expected there will be many until the formal closing of the hotel. The cafe will be open all the Winter according to an announcement made some time ago.

The intense heat of the past few days has caused many townspeople to visit Wrightsville Beach every afternoon and spend as much time there as they could spare from their business. The music at Lumina in the afternoon has also proved another drawing card.

ENDORSE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Action Taken by Mecklenburg Medical Society Tuesday Night.

Local physicians and others will be interested in the action taken by the Mecklenburg Medical Society in session Tuesday night with reference to the resolution adopted by the Forsyth County Medical Society attacking the standing of the North Carolina Medical College, located in Charlotte, which is given as follows in the Charlotte correspondence of The Raleigh News and Observer of yesterday:

"The Mecklenburg Medical Society held a special meeting tonight to consider the resolutions adopted by the Forsyth county society assailing the North Carolina Medical College located in Charlotte, the Forsyth resolutions being based, as is generally admitted upon a report made by a critic and specialist from the Carnegie foundation who visited the college some months ago.

"The Mecklenburg society, the faculty of the college not voting, unanimously endorsed the North Carolina Medical College, and most of the members present took occasion to express their faith in the college and in the character of its work.

"The meeting was not one of hostility towards the Carnegie foundation work, but rather one expressive of well founded faith in the home institution."

THREATENED SUIT AVERTED

Abutment to Sixth Street Bridge to be Shortened so as Not to Block Thoroughfare—City Attorney's Opinion of Case.

A threatened suit against the city of Wilmington and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company for the alleged blocking of a public street by the abutment on the west side of the Sixth street bridge, now in course of construction by the railroad company, has been averted by the decision to change the plans for the structure by cutting off ten feet of the abutment on the west side, following a conference yesterday afternoon between City Attorney Herbert McClammy, Mayor Walter G. MacRae and Capt. Louis Belden, chairman of the Street Commission, under whose supervision the bridge is being built.

Action against the city and railroad company was threatened by Mr. C. C. Harris, who lives at No. 513 Hanover street, whose contention was that the abutment on the west side of the bridge would block a thoroughfare passing his house and paralleling the A. C. L. tracks. He contends that the thoroughfare is the continuation of Hanover street. It is said that the street seemingly ends at the intersection of Fourth street, but the roadway continues at a southern angle as far east as Sixth street. Mr. Harris employed A. G. Ricaud and Walter P. Gafford, Esqs., to put his contentions before the proper officials and if necessary institute suit.

The attorneys advised Capt. Louis Belden of the contentions of Mr. Harris and the chairman of the Street Commission immediately held a conference with Mr. Morton, of the engineering department of the A. C. L., and Mayor MacRae. After discussing the matter they decided to secure the advice of City Attorney Herbert McClammy.

Yesterday afternoon the city attorney, Mayor and chairman of the Street Commission met in the Mayor's office at the City Hall and canvassed the situation thoroughly. The opinion of the city attorney was to the effect that if the cutting off of 10 feet did not destroy any part of the strength of the bridge or impair in any way the appearance of the bridge, then he saw no objection to taking away the 10 feet on the western side, but if it impaired the strength, or destroyed in any wise the perfect appearance of the bridge he advised that the plans not be changed, regardless of the threatened suit. Capt. Louis Belden advised the railroad's engineer of the opinion and it is understood that it was decided by the engineer that the shortening of the abutment would not impair its strength or detract from its appearance and that the change will be made.

BOWLING TOURNEY CLOSES.

Company B. of Boys' Brigade Holds Championship for Season.

The bowling tourney which has been in progress at the Boys' Brigade between Companies A and B for some weeks to determine the championship for the season, came to a close with the games last night. The series of 12 games was won by Company B, which made a total score of 8,393 pins against 8,025 by Company A, a lead of 367. Nearly all of the marginal pins were made by Company B in the game last night, when its team made a total of 2,243 pins against 1,898 by Company A. The highest individual score for any one game during the series was made by Mr. Louis Davis, his score being 204 pins. He also made the highest average and the highest total score, which was 1,904 pins. Mr. Simon Branch, of Company B, came second, and C. C. Loughlin, Esq., of Company A, was third. The greatest interest was manifested in the closing contest last night because at the beginning of the first game Company B was leading by less than a hundred pins.

The Republicans say they do not see how the assertion can be made that a quorum was present when seven consitute a majority of this particular committee and that only six were present.

The resolution adopted today is believed to be along the line of the minority report which is being prepared for presentation, possibly at the meeting Friday. The members at the meeting today decided their report should be made public at the session here, along with the majority findings and given to the public immediately. Representative Madison is preparing an independent minority report which, it is said, will sustain the course of Gifford Pinchot.

Amendments offered by Mr. James providing for presentation of the committee findings at the session in this city and for immediate publication were adopted. Those voting to adopt the foregoing, along with the amendments were the following Democratic Representatives: Ollie M. James, of Kentucky; James M. Graham, of Illinois; Senators Fletcher, of Florida, and W. E. Purcell, of North Dakota, and the Republican insurgent, Mr. Madison.

The matter of the Cunningham coal lands figured extensively in the hearings held in Washington at which Glavis, the discharged chief of a field division of the General Land Office, was a principal witness. Charges against Secretary Ballinger with respect to the Cunningham claims were made by Glavis.

Mr. Pinchot's charges dwelt largely on the question of Western power sites.

When the committee met this morning those present were Senators Nelson and Sutherland, and Representatives McCall and Madison, Republicans, and Senators Purcell and Fletcher and Representatives James and Graham. Word was received that Representative Denby, Republican, would be here tomorrow; that Representative Olmsted, who is in Maine, would arrive Friday, and that Senator Root, Republican, of New York, might also be here Friday or Saturday. Senator Frank J. Flint, Republican, of California, is abroad and it is not expected for some time.

The Democratic members were determined that some action be taken at today's session and immediately after the meeting was called to order Senator Fletcher offered his resolution declaring Ballinger "unfit for the very responsible position he holds," and stating that "the public good demands his prompt removal from said office." The substitute by Mr. Madison, which was adopted, followed.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—Gifford Pinchot when informed of the events at the Ballinger-Pinchot committee's meeting, beyond saying "that is very interesting news" had absolutely nothing to say.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 7.—Secretary Ballinger when the Minneapolis bulletins of the proceedings of the Congressional committee were read to him, said he did not wish to make any comment.

BRACE OF SUICIDES.

Women at Chapel Hill and at Raleigh Drank Acid.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 7.—Mrs. Louis G. Utley, who drank carbolic acid Tuesday morning, in an attempt to end her life, died at 4 o'clock this morning. During the day yesterday it was thought that she had a chance to survive, but by night she had begun to fail and at 12 o'clock it was merely a matter of waiting for her death hour to arrive. Mrs. Utley's mind had once been deranged. She had been treated and was thought to be in a normal condition. Her husband, Louis Utley, formerly in charge of the University Power Plant, was discharged last Spring because of alleged disreputable conduct. The woman, Flossie Eubanks, with whom rumor connected his name is now, it is said, in the Mothers' Home in Richmond, Va., the mother of a week old baby.

Mrs. Utley's mind, never too strong, is believed to have been again deranged by her marital troubles and the suicide is supposed to have come as a result.

Raleigh, Sept 7.—Mrs. Gillie Batting of No. 324 West Lane street, drank carbolic acid this morning. She said she was tired of life and was saved by speedy conveyance. She had talked of suicide several days past. She had left the boarding house after drinking acid and fell in the street almost under the wheels of a wagon. She is thought to be insane.

VERMONT RETURNS.

Dr. John A. Mead Goes in by Smaller Plurality—Gains.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 7.—Dr. John A. Mead, of Rutland, by the comparatively small plurality of 17,986 votes, was promoted by the voters of the State in yesterday's election from Lieutenant Governor to Governor. Unofficial returns, completed late tonight show that Dr. Mead received 35,206 votes to 17,220 votes for Charles B. Watson, of St. Albans, his Democratic opponent. Governor Prouty, at the last State election in 1908 received a plurality of 29,645.

The election was marked by a great falling off in the Republican gubernatorial vote, a considerable increase in that of the Democratic candidate for Governor and by heavy gains made by the Democrats in the Legislature. The Senate, as usual, will be strongly Republican.

Republican leaders attribute their losses to yesterday's rain and local conditions, while Mr. Watson said today that the result was a "rebuke to the Republican machine in Vermont rather than any dissatisfaction with National politics."

RAILROADS WIN.

Union Station Fight at Raleigh Decided by Commission.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—The Seaboard Air Line and Southern win their fight against the order of the Corporation Commission requiring the railroads to enclose with a glass concourse between the waiting room and car sheds of the remodeled union passnger station here. Commissioner Brown dissents from the order on the ground that this order for the concourse was a compromise with the Raleigh Merchants' Association when they were insisting on a new union station and he holds that to suspend the order for a concourse enclosure as has been done, really re-opens the question of a union station with enlarged trackage yards and other facilities not included in the present enlargement. He makes it clear he is ready to entertain a movement to compel the construction of a new union station.

ADMITS HE PADDED BILLS.

Acting Under Instruction of Officials of Illinois Central.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—When the hearing of criminal cases against Frank B. Harriman, Charles L. Ewing, and John M. Taylor, former Illinois Central officials implicated in the car repair scandals, was taken up today, F. H. Niles, former president of the now defunct Blue Island Car and Equipment Company, took the witness stand.

He declared that he had padded bills for repairing cars by adding from $35 to $45 to the cost of each car in doing this, he said, he was acting under the instructions of Taylor, at that time general store-keeper of the Illinois Central. Niles occupied all of the afternoon, and probably will be on the stand all of tomorrow.

Niles told of the organization of the car company and said that Harriman, Ewing, Taylor, Joseph E. Buker and the late Ira G. Rawn held stock.

The company was later dissolved and reorganized as the Blue Island Rolling Mill and Car Company.

Mrs. M. W. Moore, 510 Princess St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I cannot say too much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills as I never used another remedy that gave such good results. I suffered from dull, nagging backaches which made it impossible for me to assume a comfortable position. I was also caused much annoyance by a difficulty with the kidney secretions. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store and began taking them. They soon cured me and I have had no kidney trouble since. FREIGHT RATE ADVANCES.

Railroads Give Explanation to Inter-State Commerce Commission.

New York, Sept. 7.—Railroads north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi river outlined to the Interstate Commerce Commission here today what their explanation will be of the advance in freight rates ordered by them in that territory. The hearing is brought at request of the Northern and Eastern shippers, who protest against the advance. Louis D. Brandeis is counsel for the shippers. The committee expects to sit here for two days, to resume sitting at Chicago on September 19th, and to conclude at Washington in October at a date not yet announced.

The railroads attempted to show today, through the only two witnesses called—Clyde Brown, general counsel for the New York Central lines, and J. T. Leary, vice-president and general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, that the cost of wage increases they have recently granted overbalances their increase in freight tariffs. Commissioner James showed the attitude of the commission when he said: "The burden of the proof rests on the railroads in this hearing, and I think we are entitled to go into every matter that may lead to that result."

The sole purpose, he said, of the European trip of Mrs. Elkins and Miss Katherine is for the benefit of their health.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 7.—Rufus Suitt, an Orange county feudist, who accidentally shot Ed Garrard, cousin of his old-time enemy, Jeter Garrard, was brought to this city in the sheriff's custody tonight and placed in jail. His removal to the Durham jail was a ruse to prevent Garrard's friends from attempting to take the law into their own hands. The sheriff received an intimation that Garrard's sympathizers might attack the Hillsboro jail if Suitt was placed there for safe keeping. Garrard is not expected to live.

TAFT AT HOME.

Got Back to Beverly Late Yesterday—Visit to Boston.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 7.—President Taft got back to Beverly from St. Paul, Minn., late today, making the last stage of the journey by automobile from Boston. In Boston the President went to the Touraine Hotel to inquire as to the condition of Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers, who is seriously ill there, and was much gratified to hear of a decided improvement in Mr. Bowers' condition. The President found many messages of congratulation on his St. Paul speech awaiting him here.

Theatrical

The regular theatrical season of 1910-11 opens at the Academy of Music next Monday night. It will be a most auspicious opening; in fact, a glorious one, as the attraction selected to do the inaugural honor is "The Soul Kiss." This brilliant musical comedy will be given a massive production and the cast alone numbers over half a hundred. This does not include the chorus folks, the big working force on the stage or the musicians carried to augment the local orchestras. It will indeed be a brilliant event and the demand for seats already indicates a "standing room only audience."

"The Soul Kiss" is a merrily moving mixture of musical mirth and mirthful music of great smoothness. It is full of delightfully tuneful and flowing music, tenderly sentimental in motive and elaborated with terpsichorean numbers, unique comedy situations, picturesque choral formations and a wealth of electric and scenic luxuriance.

It is seldom that the music-loving public of this city are privileged to hear a musical sensation of such worth and entertaining qualities as "The Soul Kiss." The entire theme is new in every detail. The story centers around the search, by a young French sculptor, for a kiss that 'comes from the soul,' and occasions many clever situations that are mirth-provokers and amuse all, but in no way can offend. It is two and a half hours of delightful comedy, interspersed by a score of musical numbers of dance and song. Seats will go on sale Saturday morning at Plummer's on North Front street, at 7 o'clock.

At the Bijou.

The feature of the bill at the Bijou today will be "A Child's Impulse," showing how she averted an imminent wrong. It is a Biograph subject which is only another way of saying that the patrons of the resort will be more than pleased with the offering today. There will also be shown "Getting Even With the Lawyer" and "Breaking Up Ice in Finland."

DEMOCRATS AT NEW HAVEN.

State Convention Named Ticket—Denounced Republicanism.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 7.—The Democratic State Convention to name a State ticket, a congressman-at large, and to adopt a platform began its sessions in Music Hall tonight. John S. Seymour, of Norwalk, patent commissioner under President Cleveland, who served as temporary chairman, in an address denounced Republicanism, the recent tariff revision and scathingly arraigned the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad for its alleged domination in State affairs.

He declared that the Democratic policy of free raw materials and a high duty on luxuries must sooner or later prevail.

On the question of the tariff Mr. Seymour said that the remedy was through the Democratic policy of an intelligent revision of the tariff on National lines, the upholding of industries which truly conserve the national resources, the lowering of the cost of living and the raising of wages. Protection, he said, should be refused to trusts and combines; public service corporations should be conservatively regulated; no unjust rules should be enforced against either combinations of capital or labor; taxation should be equitable, and the law founded upon right and not might.

Republican policies had collapsed, said the speaker, and there was no substitute in sight. The unheroic policy has been favoritism. Democracy must reverse the policy of favoritism and return to public tranquility founded on justice. Favoritism, he claimed, is responsible for the growth of socialism.

He based the blame on the tariff and the combines fostered under it, for the increased cost of living. He advocated displacing the entire Connecticut delegation in Congress by one which will look after the interests of the people.

AMERICAN AVIATOR'S FEAT.

Made Daring Attempt to Capture Michelin Prize.

Clermont-Ferrand, France, Sept. 7.—Weymann, the American aviator, who today attempted to win the special Michelin prize of $20,000 offered for the first aeronaut who, with a passenger flies in six hours from the French capital to the top of Puy-de-Dome was beaten by the elements when the trophy was almost within his grasp.

The airman followed the railroad track out of Paris and everything was running smoothly until Mont Lucon was reached. Passing that town Weymann ran into a fog and blinding rain, and although he reached Ancizes, which was within 12 miles of his goal at half past five, he completely lost his bearings and wandered for an hour and three minutes in the golom, finally reaching Volvic at 7:15 o'clock, where he was obliged to descend on account of darkness.

While he failed to win the Michelin prize the American aviator made one of the most notable overland flights of the year. He smashed the world's record for a non-stop passenger run by flying 136.62 miles and also beat the record for distance traveled within 24 hours.

The aviator hopes to make another attempt to win the Michelin prize next week if the weather is not too bad.

for conservation, and conservation has won. I thank you."

Among the speakers was President W. W. Finley of the Southern Railway.

Mr. Finley spoke as follows:

"The interest of the railways of the South in conservation and the interest of the people of the South in conservation are identical," said President Finley. "I will go further," continued Mr. Finley, "and state my unqualified conviction that any economic or governmental policy that is, in the last analysis, to the best interest of the people of any community is to the best interest of the railways by which that community is served. Conversely, my conviction is equally strong that any economic or governmental policy that is harmful to the railways is harmful to the communities served by them."

"Therefore, Mr. President, in all that I say on the topic assigned to me—'the interest of the railways of the South in conservation'—I must be understood as presenting what I believe to be the interest of the Southern people.

"I am not sure that the expression 'conservation of natural resources' is everywhere understood in its broadest sense. I think that to some minds it conveys only the narrow idea of the withdrawal from present use of some part of those resources. However important that kind of conservation may be in some localities and under some circumstances, I do not believe there is much occasion for its application in the part of the United States for which I am expected to speak—the States south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi. I would define the type of 'conservation of natural resources' that should be applied in the section as being the wise use of those resources.

In some cases it may involve a measure of present self denial, as when, in the case of an owner of forest lands, it impels him to cut only the natural timber and leave standing immature trees that have a present market value, but, in that case, it leaves him with an asset which increases in value with each year's growth of the standing timber. In some cases conservation may mean the use of resources so as to obtain the maximum present profit, as in the case of soils; for I believe that I am supported by the best scientific and practical authorities in saying that soils not only preserve but increase their productivity when so handled, in the application of fertilizers the rotation of crops, and the growing of live stock as to yield the maximum present profit.

"The South is interested in the application of the conservation of wise use to its soils, its minerals, its timber, and its streams.

"Notwithstanding the wonderful industrial development of the South since 1880, it is still pre-eminently an agricultural section. It is a section, therefore, in which the conservation of the soil is of the highest importance. There is a prevalent belief that the productivity of the soils in those parts of the United States that have been longest under cultivation has been seriously impaired. Statistics do not confirm the belief.

"Estimates of cotton yield per acre have been made by the United States Agricultural Department since 1866. These figures on their face do not indicate any impairment of the productivity of the cotton soils of the South. It is noteworthy that the larger and more uniform increases in yield per acre shown by the Department's figures are in the older cotton States.

"Under continuous use, with proper rotation and intelligent use of fertilizers, soil productivity can by largely increased. This is a matter of particular interest to the South, because with our advantages of soils and climate, we have an ideal region for soil conservation through crop rotation and intensive farming. There is a quite general impression throughout the North that except for a few localities in which early fruits and vegetables, tobacco, and sugar cane are grown, the South is a one crop region, devoted exclusively to cotton. This is entirely erroneous. There are many localities in the Southeastern States where cotton is not grown at all and every acre of land in the cotton belt is suited for growing other crops as well. Cotton will continue to be the great staple crop of the South, and with the ever-increasing demand for cotton goods of all kinds, its cultivation will become increasingly profitable, but the Southern cotton planter is learning the value of crop rotation diversified farming and livestock raising are becoming more general, and the increased supply of cotton demanded by the world will be produced by increasing the average productiveness of each acre as well as by increasing the acreage.

"Other things being equal, the conservative use of raw material, whatever it may be, consists in its manufacture, in the locality of production, through all the stages of preparation for the final consumer. Manufacturing in the South has reached its present growth and is being still further developed on the basis of this kind of conservation of raw material. But a large proportion of the Southern cotton mill products, lumber, pig iron and other commodities, advanced through the first stages of manufacture, are still shipped out of the South to serve as the raw materials of industries in other localities which convert them into articles ready for the final consumer, and Southern coal is shipped to serve as the raw material for power and heat in other parts of the United States and, to some extent, in foreign countries. This is a waste of energy which, under ideal conditions of conservation would be avoided, and I am glad to be able to say that the present tendency of industrial development in our section is in the direction of its elimination. Substantial progress has already been made in the building up of secondary manufacturing along some lines, and I believe that the most noteworthy progress of Southern industrial development in the immediate future will be in this direction, carrying with it an increase in the volume of primary manufacturing through broadening the market for its products.

"One of the most valuable of the natural resources of the South is its timber. As the timber consumption of the United States is now in excess of the annual growth, and as other sections are drawing on our Southern forests, it is obvious that if the Southern wood-working industries are to survive and are to be handed down to future generations immediate and effective steps should be taken for the conservation of Southern forests.

"Whatever may be the decision of our National legislature as to the proposition for the conservation of our Appalachian woodlands as to national forests, I believe it would be a wise and patriotic policy for our State lawmakers to encourage conservative forestry by private owners in every reasonable way.

"These are matters that come within the province of our State legislators and I would suggest their consideration of whether it might not be possible to devise a system of taxation that would differentiate between timber lands so managed as to insure the perpetuation of a great national resource and those so managed as to hasten its exhaustion. I would also suggest of the enactment of proper fire laws and the establishment of an efficient patrol. I would also suggest consideration of the practicability of encouraging the planting of trees on lands of little or no agricultural value."

The problem of stream conservation was then discussed in detail by Mr. Finley. The speaker also said: "The railroads are interested in conservation of soil, forests, etc., because it means among other things, prosperity to the farmer and an increase in the volume of farm products to be carried and also an increase in their tonnage of agricultural machinery and implements and of all kinds of merchandise which a prosperous farmer will buy."

In closing, Mr. Finley spoke of the economic strength of the South, declaring the progress that has been made is but the promise of what will be.

S. S. S. CURES OLD SORES

Every old sore comes from some kind of impurity in the blood. It remains an open, discharging place on the flesh because the circulation constantly deposits into the fibres and tissues which surround the spot, the infectious matter with which the blood is contaminated. It is impossible for the sore to heal while the blood is in this impure state. S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory impurity or infectious matter to irritate the place, and nature causes a certain and natural healing of the ulcer. It is all well enough to endeavor to cleanse an old sore, or stop the itching, or absorb the discharge, with external applications, but a cure can never be reached in this way, because such applications do not reach the blood where the cause is located. S. S. S. does not simply cause a scab to form over an old sore, but beginning at the bottom it heals the place permanently by building new tissue, and filling the place with firm healthy flesh. S. S. S. is a purely botanical remedy, being made entirely of roots herbs and barks, each of which has a direct and lasting effect in removing impurities and poisons from the circulation. Old people who have suffered for years with a chronic sore will find S. S. S. a most helpful tonic and system builder in counteracting the debilitating effects of the old ulcer. THE COTTON MARKET RALLIED

Following a Further Decline in the Early Trading—Close Firm at Advance of Six Points—September Unchanged.

New York, Sept. 7.—There was a further decline in the cotton market during today's early trading, but prices rallied later on talk of increased spot demand, and reports that a tropical storm was moving at a rapid rate northwestward from Porto Rico. The close was firm at a net advance of 1 to 6 points.

The market opened easy with September unchanged, but with other months 4 to 8 points lower in response to easy cables, reports of further light showers in the Southwest and a renewal of yesterday's selling movement. The initial decline uncovered stop loss orders, and prices had a further sharp break under heavy liquidation, much of which appeared to come through wire houses with Southern connections. Local traders were also aggressive sellers and active months were soon at a net loss of 11 to 14 points with October contracts selling about a cent a pound below the high record of last month. At this level offerings were less urgent, and the market steadied on profit taking by recent sellers while during the afternoon reports of an increased demand for spot cotton in the South from exporters and fear that the West Indian storm might reach the belt in sufficient force to damage open cotton encouraged a little buying for local account. Offerings showed a tendency to decrease above the closing figures of last night but last prices were within a point or two of the best, except in the case of September, which, after ruling relatively firm all day, and selling up to a net gain of nine points, closed at 13 49, or 4 points net higher. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 3-4c lower, but bulls claimed that the lowest market was above a parity with New York contracts and the relatively steady ruling of September during the day was said to reflect the impossibility of selling here against purchases in the South at a profit. The weekly weather report read rather bullishly and may have helped the afternoon rally although it attracted apparent little attention.

Receipts at the ports today 16,441 bales against 11 983 last week and 23,897 last year; for the week 125,000 against 85,985 last week and 151,822 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 188 bales against 2,220 last year, and at Houston 11,440 bales against 7,235 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 10 points lower, middling uplands 14.25; middling gulf 14.40; sales 16,084 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed firm.

THE SELLING OF COTTON.

Feature of the Market Yesterday—Expected New Crop to Advance.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Sept. 7.—All the markets this morning were affected by the continued selling by those who expected the new crop to advance near to a parity with the closing prices of the old. It was apparent that at the decline Europe was a large buyer on arbitrage transaction, which in turn meant that spinners were buying on the decline to absorb the offerings against the purchases here. Thereon the trade expected a reaction as soon as this long selling ceased and it came during the afternoon, advancing the market above the closing quotations of yesterday. After such a break it was good judgment on the part of the American and European spinners to buy. Whether they will follow any further rally will depend upon the weather in the cotton belt. Rumors of a storm over Porto Rico aided the recovery in the last half hour.

STILL DULL ON STOCK MARKET

Government's Report on Grain Crops Awaited—Causes for Repression of Activity—General Conditions.

New York, Sept. 7.—Events which it was supposed were awaited to dissolve the uncertainty and hesitation of the speculation in stocks succeed each other without bringing any relief to the dullness. Yesterday it was the Vermont elections which were said to be repressing activity in the market. Today attention was carrieed forward to tomorrow's government report on grain crop conditions.

The stock market followed its tradition in depressing prices on news of reducted Republican majorities in the Vermont State election. As yesterday's selling seems to have been based on expectation of the result, there was sufficient demand from uncovered shorts to rally prices. This action of the market was accepted as another proof of its exceedingly narrow and professional proportions and of the wholly perfunctory character of the operations now going on. There was another lapse in interest, in consequence, and the later market lost nearly all semblence of interest. The disposition to cover shorts was enhanced by the belief that tomorrow's government report on crop conditions may show improvement.

The adjustment to more normal price levels in the cotton market is a matter that would bring satisfaction to an extensive circle of financial and industrial interests, especially for the effect it would have in inciting export demand for that product and thus helping to restore the discrepancy in the foreign trade position.

The movement of currency out of New York continues, but at a moderate rate. Chicago reports an easier tendency of the money market. Half a million dollars of Mexican gold was received in New York during the day and the shipments to Canada have been suspended.

It is believed in the financial district that the trunk line railroads will offer a stronger argument for higher freight rates in the hearings begun today before the Interstate Commission's examiners than were made by the Western railroads. This had some sustaining effect on stocks.

Bonds were firm. Total sales par value $850,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales for the day 298,800 shares, including: Suger 200; Tobacco 100; C. & O. 1,200; L. & N. 200; N. & W. 700; Reading 77,200; Southern Railway 300; U. P. 51,400; U. S. Steel 69,200; V. C. C. 600.

FARMERS IN CHARLOTTE.

Committee Reports—Finances in Good Condition—Education.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 7.—The larger part of today's sessions of the Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Union was devoted to hearing committee reports. Secretary A. C. Davis, of Texas, reported the addition of three new States to membership—California, Indiana and Virginia—and further showed the finances of the organization to be in good condition, and the growth to have been steady.

The report of the committee on education, presented by President D. H. Hill, of the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College, appealing to State and National governments for more agricultural schools and more liberal education for the farmer was unanimously endorsed. The union adopted a resolution endorsing heartily the movement of the reciprocity league to have meat restrictions removed.

President Barrett in his address urged the members of the order to learn the policy of concessions.

"The farmer has always been the most independent cuss in creation," he declared, "ready to fight, bleed and die and never give in, but he is finding out that the reason the business man succeeds is that he is ready to concede some times."

This afternoon the delegates were driven to 125 Mecklenburg county rural homes for the night's entertainment.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK.

Former Congressman Waymouth, of Massachusetts, Was the Victim.

Bingham, Me., Sept. 7.—Pinned beneath the wreckage of a big touring car when it turned turtle at the top of a steep hill, just outside of Bingham today, former Congressman Geo. Warren Waymouth, of Fairhaven, Mass., prominent in business circles, was instantly killed. Two of his three companions, Perley R. Glass and F. A. Dinsmore, of Boston, the former prominent in machine manufacturing and financial circles, were seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The fourth member of the party, J. J. Landers, who was operating the machine, escaped without injury. The accident was caused when the machine got beyond control going down hill.

Mr. Weymouth was 60 years old and represented the Fourth Massachusetts district in the 55th Congress. He was a Republican. He was general manager of the American Tack Company, president of the American Shoe Finding Company, of Grafton, Mass., and in several corporations.

SOCIOLOGICAL CRANK.

Was Working as Humble Painter, Identity Discovered.

Sterling, Col., Sept. 7.—That Frank Nicholas, of Momemee, Ill., a member of a crew of painters at work on the Burlington round house here, was not a humble craftsman, as he pretended to be, but a wealthy man studying sociological problems, came to light yesterday through search of the man's effects after he had been killed by a fall from a ladder on which he was at work.

Among his possessions were deeds to valuable Chicago real estate, mining property in the Dakotas and stock in various railroads aggregating over $50,000 in value.

MORAN VS. WOLGAST.

English Lightweight Hopes for Contest Against Champion.

New York, Sept. 7.—Owen Moran, the English lightweight who has just returned to New York after his ten-round no-decision affair with frank Burns in San Francisco, has issued a challenge to Ad Wolgast.

If the challenge is accepted, it will probably be Wolgast's last fight, as he has announced his intention of retiring permanently from the ring in October.

Birmingham Ala., Sept. 7.—As a result of eating canned salmon and home made ice cream Monday at a little party, Wilma Krahs, aged 9 years, is dead; Josie Kraas, aged 11 years, is dying, two little children named Lewis of Ensley, are in a critical condition and Henley Lee, aged 7, Glady Lee, aged 5, label Smith, aged 4, Nellie Hilton, aged 12, and Annie Kraas, aged 18, are very sick.

usually called socialism, they will find them set out in such fashion that it is impossible to misinterpret or misunderstand them in the articles to which the mayor in his letter refers and I advise them to read the articles themselves and not what the mayor says of them."

The colonel said the fact that the city administration was not represented in the ceremonies did not trouble him.

The Press Club's special publication "The Big Stick" especially disavowed responsibility for the mayor's utterance, saying that "Mr. Roosevelt will understand that Milwaukee's welcome is none the less whole-hearted—hardly the less unanimous—because the mayor has seen fit to voice a socialistic dislike for the former head of the nation."

The original programme for the day included six speeches and visits to a dozen places. Col. Roosevelt looked it over, cast the programme aside and made out one for himself.

At the Boys' Trade School the colonel spent nearly an hour questioning the instructors and students about their work. He went through the place questioning boys who were learning plumbing, carpentering and engine making.

"It is important that each man should do a little more than pull his own weight in the world," he said, as the boys gathered around him.

"And it is of vital consequence to him to have him trained so that he can begin early instead of leaving him to be trained in a haphazard way. That is what this school is doing."

Then the colonel went to the girl's school. Around the walls of the sewing room were exhibits of the work done from simple aprons to thin and filmy lace covered, hand-embroidered things to manufacture which, the colonel was told, it takes a long course of training.

"I don't think a girl has really been educated unless she can do this work," said the colonel as he gazed on the samples held up for his inspection. "Is it your view," he asked of the members of the school board who were with him, "that the public should provide education so that every boy and girl may be trained to be a self-sustaining unit of the body politic?"

He was told that that was the school board's idea. He replied:

"By George, I think it is the only plan by which our democracy can grow."

Then Col. Roosevelt said he wanted to go to the Deutscher Club. As he mounted the steps of the club house the Germans sang "Hock Soll Er Leben."

From the club the colonel went to another luncheon at his hotel, after which he held a reception there. Then he was driven to White Fish Bay and met more Germans. The dinner was served at the Press Club.

Then the colonel went out to make his speech. He was scheduled originally to speak in the auditorium, but the building would hold only a part of the crowd which waited to hear him, and so another was engaged for an overflow meeting. Col. Roosevelt spoke at the overflow meeting first and then went to the auditorium.

SEARCH FOR NEGRO BRUTE.

Alleged to Have Attempted Assault Upon White Girl.

Whistler, Ala., Sept. 7.—Two hundred men are scouring the woods in the vicinity of Whistler tonight in search of a negro, who is alleged to have attempted to commit a criminal assault upon Miss Frances Williams, the 17-year-old daughter of Jack Williams, at her father's home.

The girl was alone in the house at 7:30 o'clock tonight when a negro appeared at the back door and asked for something to eat. When she turned to get food for the negro she was seized from behind and a pistol was pointed at her head. The girl's cries for assistance attracted neighbors to the house and the negro fled. News of the attempted assault spread rapidly and a mob immediately formed. The negro will be lynched if captured.

THE LOUISIANA PRIMARIES.

Congressmen Are Renominated Over Their Opponents.

New Orleans, Sept. 7.—Reports received up to 11 o'clock this morning practically remove all doubt concerning the return to Congress of Representatives John T. Watkins, of the Fourth district; Joseph E. Ransdell, of the Fifth, and A. P. Pujo, of the Seventh. These were the only representatives from Louisiana who had opposition in yesterday's Democratic primary.

Washington, Sept. 7.—No relief from the heat yesterday is promised for today. There were ten heat prostrations here yesterday, the thermometer having reached a maximum of 102 degrees. None of the prostrations proved fatal.

WILMINGTON MINISTERS.

Held Most Successful Meeting at Page's Mill, S. C.

Page's Mill, S. C., Sept. 7.—On August 28th the beloved pastor, Rev. Jas. A. Smith, of Wilmington, began a meeting here and on the following day his friend and helper, Rev. G. A. Martin, of Wilmington, arrived and began his effective preaching and personal work at once. Brother Martin grew in earnestness and effectiveness till Friday night when he preached his last sermon, assisted the pastor in the ordination of 4 deacons and received the farewell grasp of the audience that filed out while the choir sang, "God Be With You." Up to this time 33 had joined, 15 for baptism, 13 under the watch care and six by letter. Three others joined under the watch care Saturday night. By their fruits ye shall know them.

Brother Smith remained over until Sunday morning when he baptized the candidates and closed the meeting. Truly it was a great meeting, not only for the church but for the community.

PEACH, APPLE AND TOMATO.

These Crops Are Largest in History of Niagara Peninsula.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The peach, apple and tomato crops will be the largest in the history of Niagara peninsula, according to Consul Webster at Niagara Falls, Canada.

Because of the failure of the apple crop in Great Britain, that country will be one of the biggest buyers of the Canadian product and commission houses abroad already are arranging for shipments to Liverpool, London and Glasgow.

Apple exports from Canada last year amounted to more than a million barrels, aggregating in value nearly three million dollars.
